

LUCKY ARE THOSE WHO FIND THEIR HEART

William Flanders

$\text{♩} = 112$

1. Luck - y are those who find their heart.
2. Like trees by riv - - er, stream or pond,
3. Those who seek not, by bent or choice,
4. Luck - y are those who know their heart.

5

They do not dwell from God a - - - part.
their roots are nour - - - ished from be - - - yond
those who ig - nore a deep - er voice,
With in - tu - i - - - tion and with art,

9

Be they re - li - - - gious, be they not,
and from the soil that is their own,
will not, though taste they of suc - - - cess,
their striv - ing will be pur - pose - - - filled,

13

their lives are fed by what they've sought.
till they in fruit - - - ful - ness have grown.
sa - vor their full cre - a - tive - - - ness.
as God and they them - selves have willed.

Ritard last verse.

Copyright 1999 by William Flanders